

IQFeed Time & Sales

Time & Sales

The IQFeed Time & Sales displays historical tick, minute, daily, weekly or monthly data in a table format, updating in either real time or on a delay depending on your exchange subscriptions. This app also allows you to save data as a CSV file.

Loading a Symbol / Viewing Quotes

Type a symbol that you are permissioned to see with your IQFeed subscription into the Symbol field (top left) on the Time & Sales. Press Enter on your keyboard to load the amount and type of history you are requesting (by default, it will load the last 1,000 ticks).

Edit

The Edit section allows you to change the data you are requesting and the way you view it. It also lets you print the data or output as a CSV file. Edit includes the following button selections: Settings, Print, and Save.

Settings let you select your data parameters and display criteria. There are five tabs under Settings:

- Tick Column Order - allows you to change column order on the Time & Sales window for tick history.
- Minute Column Order - allows you to change column order for minute history.
- Daily/Weekly Column Order - allows you to change column order for daily/weekly history.
- Colors - change the display colors on the Time & Sales window.
- General
 - Font - change font, font style, and font size.
 - Data Type - select tick, minute, daily, etc.
 - Display - enable exchange formatting, extended trades, and quote updates.
 - Load Data Options - select the amount or timeframe of data that you want to see.

Print provides you with options for printing the history currently displayed in the Time & Sales window.

Select Save to save the currently displayed history as a CSV (comma-separated values) file, which is a delimited text file that uses a comma to separate values. This file can be imported into Excel and other programs that store data in tables.

View

This section of the Time & Sales window includes the Filter and Autosize functions.

Filter lets you filter the displayed data by field (e.g. Price, Bid, High, etc.).

Autosize expands columns in a Time & Sales window so that all cell content is visible (i.e. not truncated).

Symbol Search

You can search for an IQFeed symbol using the Time & Sales' Symbol Search field. Type your search criteria in the field, and check the box for either "Search by Symbol" or "Search by Description". Then click on the magnifying glass.

Enter your search information on the Symbol Search window. Type a symbol or a description into the search field, then click "Search". A list of all possible symbols corresponding to your search criteria will be displayed. You can narrow your search by selecting either a specific exchange from the Listed Markets or a Security Type. After doing so, click "Search" again. When you have found the symbol you want, click "Load Selected Symbol".

Alternatively, you can search online for a symbol here.

Request Details

This section of the Time & Sales window allows you to quickly select the type of data you want to see. Click the "Data Type" dropdown to choose from tick, minute, daily, weekly, or monthly. Using the "Request Interval" dropdown, you can further select the minute interval from 1 minute(default) up to 2 hours.

Note that these data type options are also found under Edit: Settings.

Applications Links

The Application Links section provides direct access to the following IQFeed apps: WatchList, SnapQuote, Chart, Time & Sales, News, Option Chains, and Market Depth. Clicking on any of these from within the Time & Sales window will open the selected app and, with the exception of the WatchList, load with data corresponding to any symbol being viewed in Time & Sales.
